Police are looking for two stolen automobiles, taken from parking places on Santa Ana streets, during the week-end. A car belonging to W. O. Van Dusen, of Orange, was stolen Sunday night from near Fourth and Flower streets, and a few minutes later, another car, belonging to H. E. Tyrrell, 1423 South Main street, was stolen from East Third street, between Spurgeon and French streets.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE COMPLETE FOR Y. M. MEET

All arrangements have been completed for the Forty-fourth annual state convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of California, to be held here next Friday and Saturday, it was announced by Ralph C. Smedley, general secretary of the association.

The conventions open with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock, at the Ebell club house, to which friends of the Y. M. C. A. are invited, so far as the seating capacity will permit. As only 300 can be seated for the dinner, the local attendance will be limited. Men of Orange county who wish to attend the dinner are requested to make reservations at once at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. and these reservations will be cared for in order of filing so far as rooms will permit.

However, in order to allow the general public to hear the address on Friday evening by Fred B. Smith, the Ebell club auditorium will be thrown open at 7:30, and all who wish to hear Mr. Smith, both men and women, will be welcome. The address by Mr. Smith is to be on "Is America a Great Nation?" The speaker is known as one of the strongest speakers in Y. M. C. A. work in America.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, Mr. Smith will give his second address, in the Ebell auditorium, his subject being "Modern Tendencies in Religion." This meeting will also be open to the public. From 10 o'clock until noon, there will be a business session of the convention, and at 12:30 o'clock, there will be a luncheon in the Ebell dining room with the program in honor to the work of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. Admiral Robinson, commander-in-chief of the fleet at San Pedro, will be the speaker.

Visit Chapman Home
During the afternoon of Saturday, the convention delegates will visit the home of C. C. Chapman, near Fullerton, where they will be entertained. Chapman is chairman of the State Executive Committee of the Y. M. C. A., and is widely known in Y. M. C. A. work.

Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, the session will be held in the First Baptist church. From 7 to 8 o'clock there will be a demonstration of Boys' Work. A group of "Friendly Indians" from Anaheim will put on an exhibition of their work. "Pioneer" ritual will be given by a group of Santa Ana boys, led by Lester W. Slaback. A group from Long Beach will present the Hi-Y work, and Pasadena will show the Y. M. D. program.

Following this hour spent on boys' work, the closing session of the convention will be addressed by Rev. Willis Martin, of Hollywood, who is well known in Orange County.

Brownridge Is Chairman
Alex Brownridge, of Santa Ana, is chairman of the committee on local arrangements. He states that it is the desire of his committee to have everyone know that the convention sessions are public, and that there are no restrictions as to attendance except for the Friday evening dinner and the Saturday noon luncheon, for both of which advance reservations are required.

NUTRITION TALKS INTEREST MOTHERS

Much interest is being evidenced by mothers in the talks on Nutrition being given each afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and 3:15 o'clock except Saturday at 209 North Main street, Santa Ana, by Miss Zora Huddleston, Nutritionist of the California Dairy Council.

Miss Huddleston is a graduate of Columbia University, and has taken lectures under Dr. McCollom of Johns Hopkins University. Last summer she conducted a course of lectures at the State Teachers College at San Diego, and the course will be continued there again this year by her.

"The proper upbringing of children is of the most vital necessity to the welfare of any community, and all parents should avail themselves of this chance to hear these talks free of charge," it was declared.

"Any group of persons, clubs or associations are welcome, or any person may have private interviews by appointment."

OUR— NEIGHBORS

SAN BERNARDINO.—San Bernardino's anti-gambling law was upheld by Superior Judge Benjamin F. Warner who denied a petition by Shepperd brothers for an injunction restraining the city from interfering with operation of merchandising machines. Although the machine was ingeniously designed and forecast the amount of merchandise to be delivered to the player, the jurist held that its operation was, in spirit and intent, a violation of the law prohibiting games of chance.

LONG BEACH.—A new municipal auditorium, a project that has been discussed and worked upon by several successive city councils here, and which civic leaders declare is, next to the street-improvement program, the most important matter facing the city, now becomes a possibility. A general auditorium committee, headed by Alexander Scott, prominent hotel owner and civic leader, has been formed and a campaign to create a demand among the voters for the project will be launched at once.

SAN FERNANDO.—Plans toward the completion of the program that is to be conducted here some time next month in connection with the unveiling of the statue of Father Junipero Serra, are being furthered with the appointment of committees to handle the large crowds expected. The statue is life-size and of bronze, and will be erected in Memory garden. It is the work of Mrs. S. J. Farnham of New York. The celebration will be participated in by Los Angeles officials, historical and pioneer societies, Native Sons and Daughters, San Fernando officials and civic organizations, Catholic church organizations and other bodies.

PASADENA.—Frank A. Schilling, a contractor, lost a bid bond amounting to $3500 when the Pasadena board of education declared it forfeited. Schilling was low-bidder for the contract for the Washington school addition. When the bids were opened the contractor found that he had made a mistake in figuring, and that if he completed the building at the amount specified he would lose a vast sum. His bid bond of $3500, which represented one-fifth of the total cost, was then declared forfeited. Bids will be readjusted for.

CORONA.—Seventeen hundred cars of citrus fruit will be shipped from Corona during the remainder of the season, is the estimate of Arthur E. Lang, who by virtue of his position as manager of Queen Colony Fruit exchange, keeps an accurate register of the pulse of the citrus market as anyone in Corona. He says that the lemon market is good, the prices being favorable and the demand brisk. The uniform high quality of Corona fruit will be a big factor for good, he says. The damage by frost is so small as to be negligible.

GLENDALE.—Organization of an aeronautical association that will include the leading figures in aviation in California is planned for a meeting that will be held here on March 14, the first day of the two-day air rodeo to be staged at the Glendale airport on March 14 and 15, and at which it is expected that 200 flyers representing the army and navy, as well as civilians, will be present from all parts of the state.

MONROVIA.—An inaccessible country will soon be opened to fire-fighters, and to persons seeking recreation, by the construction of a road from the Mt. Wilson toll road will practically prevent such fires as the one last September, in that section, Director Cecil explained. The first five miles of new road will be constructed from the end of the Mt Wilson toll road to the "Red Box" on the Arroyo Seco West Fork divide. Another five miles will be constructed from the "Fed Box" to Barley flat, and thence extensions will be built into the back country. The total length of the new road will be approximately 25 miles, and the cost will be $125,000.

Here is the way to glistening teeth

It removes that dingy film from your teeth. It clears cloudy teeth. Start beautifying your teeth today—why wait?

MODERN science now tells us how to clean and brighten dingy teeth. A new way widely urged by leading dentists of the world. Different in formula, action and effect, it does what no other method has yet attained—removes and combats, without harsh grit, the dangerous film that covers teeth and which old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth. You will feel that film.
Under it is the prettier, whiter teeth you envy in others. If you combat that film your teeth will quickly glisten in a way that will delight you. Ask your druggist for a tube of Pepsodent.

Results will amaze you.

The great enemy of teeth

Film is the great enemy of tooth beauty. And a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of pyorrhea and most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have healthier teeth unless you combat that film.

Mail the coupon now. Don't expect the same results from old type dentifrices. Begin beautifying your teeth today.

'MACBETH' TO BE STAGED AT LOCAL SCHOOL

Shakespearean drama in what is accredited to be its most highly developed interpretation on the American stage is to be offered here through the engagement of Fritz Leiber in "Macbeth." The performance will be staged next Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Santa Ana high school auditorium.

Fritz Leiber is touring the country with a company of 28.

The appearance in the Santa Ana high school auditorium was arranged by D. K. Hammond, principal.
Hammond in commenting on the event of their engagement declared it to be "one of the biggest opportunities ever offered to Santa Ana."

Coming without guarantee, the company is endeavoring to establish a national reputation thereby making possible the arrangement of a yearly tour giving plays in the principal cities across the country.

The company originally was engaged in New York city for an extended period presenting in succession its program of nine Shakespearean plays.

Leaving New York for the tour, the Fritz Leiber company under the management of George Ford has been giving long runs in large cities across the continent. Recently they were engaged for a week in San Francisco.

After the entertainment here the company is scheduled for a two weeks' run at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles on the return trip to the East.

EXTRAVAGANCE HELD CAUSE OF SCHOOL SPLIT

Extravagance on the part of Fullerton high school board, coupled with lack of representation by the outside districts, are given as reasons for the proposed withdrawal of the Brea and Olinda elementary school districts from Fullerton high school district, according to Frank Mason, prominent business man of Brea.

Petitions for organizing a separate high school district, to be known as the Brea-Olinda Union
High School district, were filed Saturday with County Superintendent of Schools R. P. Mitchell. Action on this petition will be taken at once, in accordance with procedure in the California school law, Superintendent Mitchell declared.

Complain of Extravagance.
According to Frank Mason, adjutant of the Brea post of the American Legion, who holds the office of chairman of the Legion education committee, the movement to withdraw from the Fullerton district had its inception several years ago, when oil companies and other heavy taxpayers complained about what they asserted was extravagance on the part of the Fullerton high school board.

"This feeling of dissatisfaction has been accentuated, according to Mason, by repeated failures of the Brea district to elect a high school trustee or to secure adequate representation on the Fullerton board.
With an assessed valuation of more than $3,600,000, the Brea district was one of the principal contributors to the maintenance of the Fullerton high school, yet its residents were denied official representation with a regularity that became tiresome in the long run, it was explained.

Object to Gymnasium.
The decision of the Fullerton board to add a $140,000 plunge and gymnasium to the Fullerton plant, at a time when the Brea district was not represented on the board, and with money tighter than usual, did not help the situation. Mason added.

The movement leading to the proposed secession was set on foot some time ago by the Brea Chamber of Commerce, with the endorsement of the Brea and Olinda grammar school boards, the Brea Lions club and other civic organizations in the two communities. A campaign of publicity and personal solicitation is said to have resulted in several hundred Brea and Olinda citizens signing petitions asking for a change. The task of bringing the issue to a head was accomplished by the Brea post of the American Legion, it was stated.

NEW EFFORT TO OUST TRUSTEES WILL BE MADE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—New petitions for the ousting of City Trustees James Macklin, Richard Drew, W. R. Wharton and L. R. Ridenour will be circulated by the Taxpayers and Voters league here if their mandamus action, now in the superior court at Santa Ana, fails. Determination to carry the recall measure through and bring the matter to the vote of the people was voiced here today by William Adair, president of the Taxpayers and Voters league.

Confidence of Taxpayers and Voters league members remained unshaken, in face of predictions by members of the Civic Progress league that the mandamus proceedings would fail. The Civic Progress league is the organization which is behind the present city trustees, opposing the recall, and is composed mostly of the business men of the town.

Confidence of the Civic Progress league members is equally great in the belief that the Taxpayers and Voters will not be able to secure the necessary number of signatures to call an election by circulating new petitions.

Special Committee in Charge

According to Adair, a special committee of the Taxpayers and Voters league is in charge of the arrangements for the circulation of new petitions. E. C. Wright, and "Red" Williams head the committee.

It is expected that the new petitions will be four in number, one directed at each of the councilmen under fire. The original petitions under which the fight is now being waged in the courts, charged that the councilmen were carrying on the city government in an extravagant and wasteful manner. Charges of graft were also hurled by the Taxpayers and Voters, but rumor was carefully quoted on these occasions.

Soon after the start of the original recall petition, and after a sensational address here by the Rev. Leon Myers, of Anaheim, in which charges of participation in booze parties were thrown at several of the city officials, the charges against the councilmen changed from "graft and incompetency" to that of a "wet or dry" question. It is expected that the new petitions will be based on this issue.

The councilmen and other city officials charged by the Rev. Mr. Myers with liquor violations, denied the charges at the mass meeting.

Quiet Reigns In City

Although considerable feeling has been stirred up in the city since the start of the recall petition, things have been quiet during the last several weeks. Alleged "highhanded" procedure on the part of the city council in overruling protests on the paving of several streets in the city was said to have been one of the major reasons for the circulation of the recall petition at the start. Councilmen overruled a strenuous protest against the paving of Seventh street at their last meeting. Bill will be opened for the street paving work at the next meeting, February 18.

The recall started when members of the Taxpayers and Voters league circulated original petitions and secured 405 names which were turned over to City Clerk William R. Wright for checking. Wright found that only 294 were correctly signed according to law. The petition, to be successful, needed 329 names. Supplemental petitions were circulated and handed to the clerk with 53 names affixed. Only 30 of these were found to be signed correctly, which left the petition still five names short. The league then took the matter before the superior court at Santa Ana. Final disposition of the case is expected to be made there February 19.

AUTO THEFT CASE WILL BE HEARD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—Preliminary hearings will be held here tomorrow afternoon for Harvey Bryant, 27, Claude Gossard, 24, Mrs. Claude Gossard, 24, Wesley Crawford, 24, and B. W. Hostetter, 22, on charges of stealing an automobile.

The hearings were scheduled for last Tuesday, but were continued on account of the absence of prosecuting witnesses.

Police believe the group to be part of a well organized ring operating in Southern California. They deny the charges. Hostetter is said to have confessed taking the machine.

Girls' League Is to Give Fine Program

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—Orange high school will hold its first jinx party February 21 at 7:30 p. m. The affair will be in the auditorium, under auspices of the Girls' league. The purpose of the meeting is to get acquainted.

The mothers and girls' friends are to be guests. The program will consist of stunts contributed by the following girls' organizations: Reserves, Scouts, Los Sabios, ensemble, women of faculty and league. At the conclusion of the program there will be a grand march during which the judges are to pick the winners of the six prizes offered. There will be a prize for the cutest pair, most original and artistic costumes, also for the prettiest, funniest and tastiest costumes.

After the prizes have been awarded refreshments will be served.

Costs Less to Get Drunk Now In Beach City

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—The cost of getting drunk in Huntington Beach has decreased. City Recorder Harry Stewart assessed a fine of $25 upon Asa Taylor, 63, local man, who pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication.

The maximum fine of $50 was formerly imposed by Judge C. W. Warner, during his term as city recorder.

Taylor who has been a resident of the county for 23 years, was arrested recently by local police. He was his first man charged with intoxication to appear before City Recorder Stewart, since his appointment to office.

FULLERTON MAN IS HOME FROM TRIP TO EUROPE

FULLERTON, Feb. 9.—Gaston Bastanchury, president and general manager of the 2700-acre Bastanchury ranch here, has just returned from a 10 weeks' trip to Mexico, France and Spain. Mr. Bastanchury talked with a number of prominent persons in France and thinks that country will pay in full its war debt to the United States. He also reports that France is rapidly regaining its prewar financial prestige.

He found conditions in Spain good and is of the opinion that there is little to the revolutions supposed to brew from time to time in opposition to the king. Public demonstrations in favor of the king are common, he said.

Goes to City of Mexico

After leaving here on the long trip his first stop was in Imperial valley, where he is establishing large nurseries. From there he went to Mexico City. He reports great development work throughout that country since the last presidential election. He says Mexico is raising sufficient fruit to care for Mexican consumption, but due to the fact that a ban has been placed on transportation of fruits to and from the United States, the citrus groves of Mexico will never enter into competition with California.

Returning from France to the United States, through his associations and dealings with big business men, he reports that business is good throughout the east and is improving daily. He seems to think that much of the propaganda against California is limited almost entirely to some of those who are boosting Florida.

"Of course, Florida has an advantage in eastern markets due to the fact that it is much nearer and therefore enjoys lower freight rates but this advantage is out-distanced by the better quality of fruit grown in California," Mr. Bastanchury said.

Florida Seeks Tourists

"Florida is making overtures to tourists and traveling men—greater freedom, and this fact is proving a drawing power."

"Business conditions in New York show a great improvement over last year. It seems that the results of the presidential election have instilled a feeling of confidence. Theaters and business houses in that city are well crowded, and though prices are high, people are buying," he continued.

But in spite of the pleasures he enjoyed and the grandeur he perceived, Mr. Bastanchury says there is no place quite so good as Southern California.

Under the direction and supervision of Mr. Bastanchury the great Bastanchury ranch in this city has been brought to a high state of cultivation.

COLORFUL FOLK BEGIN WORK ON BEACH COLONY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—Huntington Beach residents today were discussing reports that actual construction had commenced on establishment of a negro colony along the coast, east of town. Road roads have been laid on the sand and construction on one house has started, with lumber on the ground for several other small beach cottages.

The tract is situated just outside the city limits and, according to information received from a reliable source, local citizens will be unable to do anything to prevent establishment of the colony.

Claim Purchase of Land Although it could not be definitely established that negroes have purchased the tract for establishment of a summer colony, it was not denied that they had purchased the property.

The land upon which the colony will be situated starts at the city limits and runs between the Pacific Electric tracks and the ocean and comprises a narrow strip of sand along the coast. Seven acres are contained in the strip. According to information received from a reliable source, the land was purchased from Col. S. H. Finley of Santa Ana. A consideration of nearly $2500 an acre is said to have figured in the transaction.

Negroes would not admit that they had bought the tract, but declared that they had heard of such a deal and that they knew a number of their people were looking for an isolated spot where they might establish an exclusive colony. "We want to be left alone, where we can enjoy ourselves once in a while," one of the men said.

Santa Ana Residents Interested It was declared that several colored residents of Santa Ana and other Orange county cities are connected with the establishment of the colony.

Another view as to the question of establishment of the colony was voiced by several persons here, who declared that they saw no reason why the colony should not be established, and that they believed the negroes should have a place to spend their summers together if they desired. It was also pointed out that the region chosen was about the quietest section of the beach. The colony will be bordered on both sides by sand for nearly two miles to the nearest house, in front, by the ocean and on the rear by the Pacific Electric tracks, the state highway, and a large area of marsh land.

LEADER IN BREAD WAR WILL SPEAK

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—Lillian Burkhart Goldsmith, noted Los Angeles Woman's club leader, and one of the leaders in the Los Angeles bread war, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of the Woman's club here tomorrow afternoon. A pot luck luncheon will be held at the clubhouse in connection with the meeting.

The first of a series of cooked food sales and bazaars was held in a downtown business building Saturday by the club to establish a clubhouse fund. It is expected that the question will arise soon as to the building of a new clubhouse, the building of a new clubhouse. If a new building is not erected, the present one will be remodeled, it was declared by the women.

PUBLIC TO VIEW TOWEL FACTORY

ORANGE, Feb. 9.—Giving the public an opportunity to see how towels are made, the West Coast Textile company, local Turkish towel factory, will hold "open house" Tuesday afternoon, it was announced today by Robert B. Lynn, secretary, who at the same time extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

The new plant, located at the corner of Cypress street and Almond avenue, will be open to visitors from 12 noon until 9 p. m., during which time it will be operating under working conditions.

While there is considerable work yet to be done before all the machinery is installed, the factory is operating on a small scale in order to lose no time in filling its heavy schedule of orders.

Sir James Barrie To Write New Play

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Sir James Barrie is contemplating a new play. Robert Burns will be the central figure in the new play.

Barrie's last play was "Mary Rose," produced nearly five years ago. There has been no need for Barrie to write new plays, for London is hardly without a Barrie revival.

DISCUSS JOINT FETE TO MARK FINISHED ROAD

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 9.—Plans for a joint celebration between the chamber of commerce of this city and the chamber of commerce of Newport Beach, formed the main topic of discussion by members of the South Coast Improvement association, which met Friday night at the Newport Yacht club.

Election of officers of the group was postponed, on account of small attendance. Several matters in regard to the reorganization of the association were taken up.

Tentative plan for celebration of the completion of the state highway between Newport Beach and this city was laid here today by J. A. Armitage, secretary of the chamber of commerce. Armitage declared that it was planned for the chambers of commerce of the two cities to invite the city and county officials from Riverside, San Bernardino, Los Angeles and San Diego counties to be guests of the chambers of commerce for a formal opening of the state road.

Complete plans for the affair will be made as soon as it is definitely known at what time the bridge across the Santa Ana river will be completed. Workmen at the bridge were busy today with the last step in the construction, the laying of the cement approach from the state highway on the east of the bridge to the last span of the bridge which was completed several days ago. It is expected that the bridge will be open by March 1.

CHAMBERS OF 2 CITIES TO CO-ORDINATE

Exemplifying the "brotherly interest" that should exist between communities in the same vicinity, committees representing the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and the Community Chamber of Commerce at Orange, today were prepared to submit to their respective bodies recommendations that organizations in each city take no action on any proposition that may be advantageous to one and detrimental to the other without first referring the proposed action to the joint committee.

This spirit will be further fostered at a joint meeting of the memberships of the two chambers to be held some time in the immediate future, the date for which will be arranged later.

The committees met at noon yesterday at the Miles cafe in Orange and discussed matters pertaining to the activities of the two bodies and the two communities and passed resolutions favoring inter-city fellowship.

Guy Gilbert, one of the members of the Santa Ana committee, is chairman of the joint committee. Other members of the local committees are William Iversen and Potter Bowler. Orange is represented by Mike Evans, A. W. Swagze and Stanley Mansur, the latter being secretary of the joint committee.

The following resolution was approved yesterday:

"Whereas, the Chambers of Commerce of Santa Ana and Orange have each appointed three men to serve as members of an inter-city committee, and

Whereas, the close proximity of the two cities produces a condition in which will arise problems affecting both jointly, and

Whereas, the final success and development of each city will depend not upon the obtaining of undue advantages, but rather a spirit of intercommunity fellowship, goodwill and cooperation; now therefore, be it

Resolved, that we do request of the members of our separate Chambers of Commerce that they aid us in the manifestation and carrying out of this same spirit; be it further

Resolved, that the spirit of good-will and cooperation as here-in pledged should be shown by every citizen of both Santa Ana and Orange in the consideration of either of separate or joint problems of their own or both cities; be it further and finally

RESOLVED, that we do request our separate Chambers of Commerce and all other civic organizations to acquaint this committee with any suggestions or proposed actions, which, while possibly advantageous to the one city, may become an act of injustice to the other. While retaining their political independence, the following action plan both communities can continue to grow into one splendid family of energetic, unselfish and patriotic workers for the general good.

Nab 4 In County Chicken Thefts

First arrests for chicken stealing in Orange county, since the latest series of thefts has been reported to the sheriff's office, came Friday night, when Deputy Sheriff Barnett, of Cypress, aided by local officers, arrested four persons, three of whom are juveniles, and lodged them in the Orange county jail on petit larceny charges.

Jesse Anderson, 16, Pete Curti, 17, and Harry Kelsey, 29, were brought in last night and another boy, who officers say is only 13 years of age, was taken to the juvenile home for the night. They are scheduled for a preliminary hearing today.

LIBERALS AT SCHOOL SCORE CLEAN SWEEP

The Liberal party at the Santa Ana Polytechnic high school overwhelmed the opposition of the Independents with crushing force.

The results of the election held last week showed they had gained the presidency for their candidate, Victor Walker, with a complete ticket to back him.

With the exception of one of the minor offices, the Liberals won every position on the student governing board for their candidates.

The single victory registered by the Independents was that of the election of George Decker, football star, to a position on the Boys' self-governing committee.

The Liberalists who won the student body posts are: Victor Walker, president; Fred Johnston, vice president; and Miss Annie Tarver, secretary.

On the girls' self-governing committee are Miss Virginia Thatcher and Miss Margaret Carouthers, Warren Hamilton, Liberals, with George Decker, Independent, on the Boys' self-governing committee.

Now it is the task of the Liberalists to redeem their campaign promises. Their clear majority gives them undisputedly the upper hand in student affairs with hardly the semblance of a check by the Independent party.

When informed of his victory Walker expressed his surprise at the large majority vote he polled. The election report showed Herbert Meisinger, rival Independent candidate, with 266 votes while Walker received 434.

For the vice presidency the vote was decidedly for Johnston. He gained 420 to Raymond Dawson's 286. The secretaryship was close. Miss Annie Tarver took it with 379 votes while 335 were recorded for Miss Evelyn Young.

Walker today reiterated his stand in regard to the campaign issues.

With student body enthusiasm aroused, this semester will be one of the most eventful in the history of the school. On the approval of the faculty we expect to arrange interclass contests to quicken student body spirit. I stand back of Principal Hammond to the limit," Walker said.

Walker is a past member of the student body Board of Control and held the position of commissioner of forensics.

At the party organization headquarters of the Liberals the leaders were jubilant over their success.

Keen interest has marked this election, according to the report of the election board. A larger vote was polled than has ever been recorded at the high school in recent years. On the election board were Chairman Allen McDermott, Miss Ethel Karp, Miss Mary Jane Owens, Arthur Norman, and Albert Harver.

Of six honor students from the two junior high schools.

Miss Annie Stearns and mother of Long Beach visited for several days at the William Stearns home.

A farewell party Wednesday night was held at the home of Mrs. Florence Swales, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Russell, who are removing to Los Angeles, where they have just completed a new house. Mr. Russell will be in Costa Mesa part of the time. The evening was spent playing progressive dominoes. Refreshments were served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Bremer, Mr. and Mrs. H. King, J. Wright, Fred A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. G. Gardner, honorees and hostess.

Crossword 'Sticker' of Six Letters

Building homes today is somewhat like the crossword puzzle. The woods are full of prospective builders who are searching for synonyms—something to take the place of lumber.

Little that is durable, useful and beautiful in the home can be gained, however, without the use of lumber. Wood is the core of the structure. Wood properly treated and finished finds no superior as a surface, exterior or interior.

Building developments have brought about the use of stucco, wallboard, cement building blocks, various roofings other than shingles—all of which have their virtues and uses—none of which are practical without the use of lumber. Regardless of the type of your building lumber will be a big item, if not the major factor.

The proper selection of timber for framing is the first essential. It means a strong, lasting home, one in which the plastered walls will remain free from cracks. Wall sheathing, siding and lathing and roof sheathing must be strong and well-seasoned also.

The finish lumber is another item—of considerable cost—worthy of prolonged study.

Lumber is not merely joists and rafters. It includes mouldings, panels, flooring, interior trim—all that is fine and appealing in your home structure.

Have you considered mahogany or gum as an interior finish for dining and living room? Have you advised as to the use of cedar? Do you know the difference in costs of pine, oak and maple flooring?

It's all lumber. May we answer these questions for you? It will mean added beauty in your home at small cost.

SCHOOL NEWS

Frances Willard

The exhibit case has become one of the most interesting features of Frances E. Willard school. Every week a different display of school work is artistically arranged for the pleasure of the entire school.

This week some splendid work from the woodwork department is the main feature. Among them are the following: a typewriting table made by Otis Falkner, a chair by Henry Rhodes, a sewing rocker by Edgar Mark, a footstool by Carl Larson and an end table by Howard Hales. Other interesting features of this week's exhibit are maps and notebooks from the vocational and sewing classes.

"Best Athletic Record" Cup. "Jake" O'Bryant won the "best athletic record" individual loving cup, awarded by the school to the boy in the February graduating class making the best athletic record during the last year. Jake's record is as follows: Third base on 1924 baseball team, left half on the 1924 football team, first singles in the 1924 fall tennis team, and he was second in the quarterly death-on tests. He was awarded a school letter in each of these sports, which means that his scholarship had to be good during the entire time.

The local Kiwanis club provides a cup every year for the best of the June class who makes the best athletic record during the year. This is the first time this custom has been observed in the February class. It is hoped to make this an annual custom.

P. T. A. Meeting.

Next Thursday, February 12, the regular monthly meeting of the Frances Willard P. T. A. will be held at the school. An interesting and worthwhile meeting is planned and it is hoped that many parents will be present.

Gold Pins Awarded.

During the last assembly before graduation two gold pins were awarded for scholarship records. Janet Briggs and Naomi West won their pins for being in the Honor society for five semesters. Josephine Ball won her pin last November and she has been in the Honor society for six semesters.

New Teacher.

Miss Mabel Russell has been added to our faculty, teaching in the commercial department. Miss Russell comes to us from Denver, Colorado.

Assembly.

A very enjoyable assembly took place last Wednesday morning at the Frances Willard school. This was the first assembly that the new pupils have had the pleasure of attending so it was especially appreciated by them.

The 5A class was in charge of the program and much credit is due Miss Briney, the class teacher. Miss Violet's 6-period orchestra played several selections. Florence Hunt and Allison Lair accompanied on the piano. Following the orchestra selections Evelyn Morrison gave two readings which were greatly enjoyed. They were "When I'm Grown Up" and "Tiny's Opinion of the Baby." Marjorie Walton favored with a piano solo. Then came the main entertainment of the day which was an advertisement of a circus. First appeared the famous jazz orchestra from Africa, of which the melodies and costumes were equally elaborate. Then the Fat Lady appeared, weighing 1600 pounds. Acrobatic stunts and clowns, and other famous features were presented. Following the circus stunts a musical number was rendered by Rose Marie Smith and Willena Belle at the piano, accompanied by Ruth Gardner playing on the bells. The closing number was a selection from the girls' quartet, "You and I."

Club Notes.

The school clubs met during the 6 period last Friday and many interesting programs were enjoyed. The Bible club had a very interesting meeting with Miss Randall from the Four Square Gospel church. She spoke to the members on the subject, "The Light of the World." It is hoped that more students who have not yet joined the club will take advantage of the opportunity to join this club and enjoy the interesting programs scheduled. Miss Russell is the teacher in charge.

John Muir

The teachers of John Muir school are trying out a scheme which may prove a benefit to the attendance record. At the end of the semester all children who have been neither absent nor tardy will be given an honor badge. The children show a keen interest.

We should like to urge the parents of the John Muir district to make use of the school library. It really is a branch of the city library and we feel it would be worth their time to come over and get acquainted with it.

Last Friday, the teachers of the school, gave a luncheon in honor of Miss Alice Burge and Mrs. Alexander, who were leaving at the close of the semester. Mrs. Talbot and Miss Stella Muller have taken their places.

The P. T. A. will hold its regular meeting in the school auditorium, Tuesday afternoon, February 10. The third grade will have charge of the program. Save this date and plan to go. There isn't a better way of showing your school interest.

On Monday, January 26, the John Muir school started serving milk to the children. The underweights, especially, are urged to take notice. The P. T. A. is buying milk for the children who cannot afford it and who really need it. At present between 75 and 90 are served daily.

Assembly

The first assembly of the new semester was held Wednesday, February 4. After a few announcements, Mr. Nelson turned the assembly over to Miss Hunt, who had charge of the program.

Vivian Larson announced the following program:

Saxophone solo, Newell Vandermaast, accompanied by Joseph Warner; Monstern St. Jean (Howard Bear); violin solo, Everett Pearce, accompanied by Teresa Bement; oration, "Atlanta, the City that Conquered," Irving Weede Wright; "The Village Scandal" song, "The Scandal Man," Thelma Obarr, LaVerne Travis, Dorothea McCune, Ferdina Peters; song, "Lathrop Scandal," by Frank Hilligass, Clarence Sid-doway and Joseph Warner, Silent drama, Frances Wickersheim (Mistress), Crystal Talley (Maid).

Boy Orator

At a recent assembly, Irving Weede Wright delivered an oration "Atlanta, Georgia, the City that Conquered Defeat."

Master Irving is a lad of eight and has never attended school. The oration, which lasted about ten minutes, was taught him at home. Although he does not know how to read, his parents have carefully planned for his education and training. The Wrights have made their home in Anaheim since coming to California from Georgia a year ago. Irving says "It's great to be from Georgia but it's better to be a booster for Santa Ana."

New Students

Lathrop Junior high school has become the mixing pot for the graduates of the grammar schools. After one week in the new school it is interesting to see how the new elements are reacting to their environment. Here are a few of the comments made in Miss Anderson's English class Friday morning.

Rollin Craig formerly of Franklin school was much impressed by the "traffic officers" in the halls, who made you play on the right side of the hall. If you shout you have to pick up rocks on the school ground.

Carl Serensky and Duncan Hor-nis formerly of Roosevelt school seem to have been bewildered and somewhat at sea when the schedule was changed for assembly. Both agree, though, that "It's fun even if you get mixed up a lot."

Viola Chapman, from the same school has been having trouble remembering which stairs to use. "In the afternoon," she says, "I went up-stairs to my locker and then when I started down, I saw everybody looking at me. I could not think what I had done, finally a girl came to my rescue. She told me I was going down the stairs that we are supposed to use only when we are going up."

Loren Young from McKinley school states this experience: "One day, between periods, I put my books in a locker but didn't notice what number it was. The next period when I went back for some more books, I couldn't remember which was my locker. I knew it was on the right hand side going south, so I started opening every locker that was not locked. Finally, about the middle of the second section I found mine." Now Loren remembers the number of his locker.

Ellen Reed from Spurgeon is very much interested in the electric subject she chose. "I was put in the fourth period cooking class. We have little kitchens with dishes, pans, ice cream freezers, little stoves and everything else you would use to cook with. There are only two people in a kitchen. Tuesday, we made cocoa and drank it. Wednesday we made rice custard. Friday, we cooked rice and cheese together. After we got through with what we are cooking we get to eat it."

"It surely is great!" says Aileen Adams also from Spurgeon. "What if you do get mixed up once in a while, you have fun anyway? You always want to do the things in grammar school. I think anyone just is itching to get here. I lost my program and wandered about like a lost sheep, but I always found out where to go just before the bell rang. Everybody here is a good sport. Hurrah for Julia C. Lathrop!"

Edna Kehler, from Edison, likes junior high school so well she wrote this poem:

The First Week at Lathrop
We all are proud of Lathrop
For she's a very fine school
There's not a one among us
Who acts much like a fool.

Oh, I have a lot of trouble
With my little lock and key
One day my biggest sister
Said 'twas late to school for me.

Wednesday we had assembly
And the play was very fine,
They put on lots of oruge and
To make their faces shine.

Today Miss Marion Parsons
Went out doors for P. E.
And she stumbled over a tiny stick
Which was humorous to me.

The opera "Sylvia" which was recently produced by the Music-Art departments was an unqualified success. The proceeds went to the Red Cross. The opera was a net profit of $100. The opera was given twice. Once in the afternoon for the first to sixth grades and in the evening to the general public.

On Friday evening, January 30, 1925, the mid-year graduates of the Julia C. Lathrop and Frances Willard Junior high schools held their commencement exercises in the senior high auditorium.

The auditorium was well filled with relatives and friends of the class. The girls were very lovely in their tailored dresses of flannel and linen.

J. A. Cranston, president over the program. The first number was a selection played by the J. C. L. orchestra. Invocation was given by the Rev. Moffett Rhodes of Spurgeon Memorial church. The Boys' Glee club of Willard gave two num-

Mr. J. A. B. Fry of the Centenary Methodist church of Long Beach gave the address on "Personality." It was both inspirational and interesting. He said that the boys and girls of today have all the material for a good personality and that everyone should try to make use of this material.

At the close of the program, Mr. Nelson and Mr. Kellogg presented the diplomas. The presidents of the different classes then stepped to the front and let the students in the flag salute. This was followed by the singing of America by all.

A Grand And Glorious Feeling

What worse sensations are there than to have to go to class. When you haven't got your lessons.

And excuses just won't pass.

The teachers have such wisdom About such things, that You do your best explaining It will not pass, you know.

Wouldn't it be glorious To have them smile and say, "You, poor dear child, I understand. I'll let it pass today."

5B Class Party

Jane! Jane! It was Jane this and Jane that at the 5B masquerade party. The party was given at Martha Spaulding's in Costa Mesa, January 23. Ferdina Peters took the part of Jane the "little girl." She was to meet the guests at the door and take their hats and coats. The first bunch were nearly all boys. Jane was (supposed to be) little and the coats and hats were many. It was too much for the "little girl" so she called on her twin (Leota Ewing) to help her. As soon as every one was there Jane decided to find a "man" and "he" she finally made her decision on "Lorene Rose and Burney Lucas. Miss Cornell came as a "young girl" from the fifteenth century. We also had a visitor from Alabama, a Mr. Washington (Harold Baker). A jolly old clown managed to escape from the circus and came to our party. (Vincent Dixon). There were several others from the fifteenth century, and a Spanish dancer managed to sneak away from the cabaret (Ethel May Kinley). Many games were played such as, "Spin the platter," "musical chairs" and "what, what and where." Refreshments were served.

The students of the Jefferson school assembled in the kindergarten room Friday to hear Jerome Shaffer, a clever impersonator. The program consisted of a little girl, a little boy, and an old grandmother, and an explanation of the game called fifty-fifty.

The program was very interesting. Mr. Shaffer will give an afternoon performance at the high school, February 10 at 2:30 under the auspices of Jefferson P. T. A. All are welcome.

WALKER FILM HAS MESSAGE FOR PARENTS OF SANTA ANA

"Broken Laws" Also Gives Plenty of Drama to Picture Fans

PRIVATE SHOWING PLEASES VIEWERS

Film Deals With Laxness of Parents and Children Teaches Lesson

Saturday morning a selected audience consisting of ministers, club workers and city officials and newspaper men saw a private screening of Mrs. Wallace Reid's latest picture, "Broken Laws," dealing with the waywardness of youth and indulgent parents. The picture will be shown tomorrow (Tuesday) and succeeding days of this week at Walker's theater.

It will be remembered that Mrs. Reid's former picture dealt with the traffic in narcotics and the exposures made in that film caused something of a sensation throughout the country. In "Broken Laws" she takes the American father and mother to task for not exercising the proper parental control over their children.

The film is founded upon the premise that the parents are largely to blame for the boys and girls who go wrong. The film brings home in no uncertain manner the fact that there can be too much of what we know as "mother love." Mrs. Reid has injected an unusual "punch" in her picture. It occurs when she finally takes her boy in hand and she speaks him liberally and forcibly in the region where such treatments are usually administered.

A Message to Parents
 "Broken Laws," is not only an intense, interesting and convincing drama, but it has a needed message and it gets over that message without becoming preachy nor interfering with the thread of the story. Such films are few and far between but Mrs. Reid and her co-workers seem to have hit on the happy medium of entertainment and education, in which neither detracts from the other.

"Broken Laws" fulfills two purposes. It provides a wonderful evening of entertainment and it cannot make better citizens. It is the story of two ordinary, every-day homes in which at least one parent disregards the law as a routine thing.

There are children in each family. They see this wholesale flouting of the constituted law and the picture tells the effect of this contact with lawbreaking on the part of the child, and later the young man and woman.

Cast Carefully Chosen
 The story is ably interpreted by Mrs. Reid and a highly competent cast of players, evidently chosen with great care and with due regard to the parts they were to play.

Mrs. Reid is cast as the indulgent mother, who spoils her boy because she loves him. The part is not easy and could easily fail to gain sympathy in the hands of a less capable artist.

Surrounding Mrs. Reid are such sterling players as Percy Mar-

C. J. Cogan, recently elected president of the Orange County Shrine club.

FINE PROGRAM OUTLINED FOR FEZ WEARERS

A call was issued today by President C. S. Cogan, for a mass meeting of Shriners of county at Masonic Temple, Anaheim, 8 p. m., Friday.

C. J. Cogan, recently elected president of the Orange County Shrine club, and his official staff have outlined an ambitious program of club activity for the coming year, it was disclosed today by letters forwarded to members by Cogan and Secretary John M. Cloyes.

Announcement is made that a call soon will be issued for a mass meeting of all Shriners in the county, regardless of membership in the club, for discussion of the suggested program and for consideration of the program for entering the 1200 guests of the club June 3 as one of the features of the annual meeting of the Imperial council in Los Angeles.

Outline of Activities.
 If members give approval, the club will have sufficient entertainment features for the year 1925, for the following is the proposed schedule, according to Cogan:

Dance and entertainment at Fullerton approximately the first week in March; dance and entertainment at Huntington Beach during April; dance and entertainment at Anaheim during May; Shrine Conclave at Los Angeles during June.

July and August will be dark, as no doubt most of the Nobles will be away on vacations. It is contemplated to have a Shrine Stag Party during September, at a place to be decided upon. Santa Ana will have charge of the dance and entertainment for the month of October.

The Shrine Charity Ball will be held in November.

Pick Representative Committee.
 "The entertainment committee is quite the most important committee of any organization," Cogan said, in announcing that virtually every section of the county is represented by the following men who have been suggested for the committee on entertainment:

Joseph P. Smith, chairman; Sam Jernigan, A. E. Koepsel, C. E. Brown, vice chairman; Otto Huan, F. C. Mock, Charles F. Mitchell, C.

FACTORY MEN TO BE GUESTS OF JR. CHAMBER

Tonight's Meeting First of Industrial Sessions Contemplated

Manufacturers of Santa Ana will be the guests tonight of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at a dinner meeting at the American Legion home. At least 150 persons are expected to be in attendance. A number of the visitors will bring samples of their product.

The dinner will begin promptly at 6:30 o'clock and will be served by members of the auxiliary of the local Legion post.

The entertainment committee consisting of Milburn Harvey, chairman; L. C. Elliott, J. V. Connett, W. F. Parks and George Baker, has arranged an elaborate program of interesting talks and musical numbers.

Tonight's meeting is the first of a series of industrial gatherings which the Junior chamber plans to hold to acquaint the members with the importance of the manufacturing industries to the city. Decision to have the manufacturers attend as guests resulted from suggestions made by Jesse Elliott and Jack Wallace, prominent members of the organization, at the last meeting.

REBEKAHS HOLD INSPIRING MEET

One of the most enjoyable events of the season in fraternal circles was held at I. O. O. F. temple when 75 Veteran Rebekahs braved atmospheric conditions to attend the veterans' all-day meeting as scheduled.

A sumptuous noon-day dinner was served country-style; the menu offering fruit cocktail, vegetable salad, baked ham, southern sweet potatoes, escalloped potatoes, stuff, cold celery hearts, home-made hot biscuits, coffee, brick ice cream and home-made cakes. The tables were beautiful with peach blossoms and ferns, reminding guests of the coming of spring, rather than of the prophesied end of the world.

During the business routine an interesting talk was given by Mrs. Nankervis, district deputy of district No. 50 who appealed to the members to use their influence in bettering conditions in Odd Fellowship that young members might retain the highest opinions of the order. Mrs. Utley offered a resolution that the Veteran Odd Fellows be made custodians of the Veteran Odd Fellowship movement and also that corridors of the temple be kept free from contaminating influence and sacred to the principals taught by the order.

Much praise was accorded the committee responsible for the happy day, Mesdames B. Utley, George Peters, C. S. Hubbard, Charles Carey, C. S. Miles, Richard, Agnes Cullum and Viola Fippas.

There will be a demonstration of Towner's new, clean cut, cover crop Disc Harrow, all day Tuesday, Feb. 10, on Ranch north of Sam Nua residence, Prospect avenue, Tustin. This harrow is an entirely new idea, and is of special interest to all, and is invited to see this demonstration.

Woman Criticized for Objecting to National Anthem

A resolution condemning the action of Mrs. Fannie Bixby Spencer, Costa Mesa, in asking Will C. Wood, state superintendent of schools, to eliminate the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" in the public schools, was adopted by the auxiliary of Calumet camp, United Spanish War Veterans, at a meeting held in the G. A. R. hall last week.

A portion of the resolution follows:

"Resolved, that as mothers, wives, sisters, daughters and near relatives of the volunteers of the Spanish-American war, who fought under the glorious stars and stripes to carry out the noble principles of the American government, which in all its wars has only fought on the side of right, liberty and justice and humanity, we wish to express in most emphatic terms our absolute condemnation of such doctrines as Mrs. Fannie Bixby Spencer voices in her letter to Mr. Wood. "If it had not been for our early patriots of the type of Francis Scott Key, author of the national anthem, who fought for a great cause, we should never have had an American government."

Officers Warn On Thefts from Cars

Police issued a warning today against leaving valuables in automobiles parked in the downtown area, following reports of thefts during the last several days.

The latest theft was reported yesterday by Mrs. C. Finley, 1625 East Fourth street, who told police that a black purse containing eight coupons from Liberty bonds, an address book, a check for $15.00, a completed income tax report ready for mailing, and an operator's license were stolen from her car while it was parked near the intersection of Sixth and Bush streets.

Several smaller thefts have been reported.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

Rub on Good Old Musterole. That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once.

Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief. Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, does the work without blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 60c in jars and tubes.

SUMMARY OF SCHOOL LAWS IS RECEIVED

State Teachers Association Urges Retention of Pension System

Results of proposed school legislation introduced in the present legislature and pending action, coupled with observations and recommendations, are set forth in a communication received at the city board of education offices from the California Council of Education and the California Teachers Association.

Touching on the California teachers retirement system, the communication states that a bill, known as Assembly Bill 883, has been introduced by Assemblyman Foster, providing for the reorganization of the retirement salary plan.

It is suggested by the council of education that no change be made in the Retirement Salary Act at this time. It is added that the council would look with favor upon any investigation the authorities may make such as would result in getting at the real facts through a scientific study of cases.

As regards the California teachers' tenure law, the act has been declared unconstitutional in Napa county, the communication states. It is recommended that a decision be secured from a higher court in order to have a ruling that will stand. Meantime, there has been introduced in the legislature a measure identical with the provisions of the present tenure law except that there was stricken out any reference to schools of eight teachers or more. Should this measure become law, it would apply to teachers in the small schools of eight teachers or more.

Deuel Bill Discussed
 Considerable space is devoted to the much discussed Deuel bill, introduced by Assemblyman Charles H. Deuel, of Chico, number Assembly bill No. 1128. This bill provides for a director of education, appointed by the state board of education, at a salary of $7,500. This measure is said to have the approval of Governor Richardson.

Attention is called to the fact that the measure would create divided authority, and establish two heads for the public school system. Fear is expressed that instead of removing the public schools from the field of politics, it would have the opposite effect, as it places the appointment of this director in the hands of the governor of the state. Under the present system, the communication states, the majority of the members of the board may, at any time, as now, be appointees of a particular governor, and may thus open an avenue of political patronage.

Taking up the feature of "divided authority," the opinion is advanced that it will result in an impossible condition as to certification, text books, trust funds and the like, in which the authority of the state superintendent of public instruction, elected direct by the people, would conflict with that of the governor's appointee.

The Deuel bill would make the new director the secretary and executive officer of the state board of education, it is pointed out. In this connection it is added:

"This bill, which ostensibly deals with the government of the Teachers' Colleges as set up in 1921, actually goes back to the legislation under which the state board of education was organized in 1913, thus completely severing the relationship between the state board and the superintendent of public instruction, whereby the superintendent has been secretary and executive officer of the state board."

LIGHT GLOBES AND WIRE ARE STOLEN

Burglars stole ten 1600-watt electric light globes and a quantity of insulated wire from the storehouse of the Orange County Farm Bureau, located in a building near the E. K. Wood Lumber company, according to a report made to the city police late Saturday by A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager.

Entrance into the building was made through a side door and, according to the report, a light truck was used to haul away the wire. The globes were valued at $10 each.

Several months ago, the place was entered by several boys and a number of electric light globes were broken. The globes were stolen by the farm bureau in connection with the annual Orange county fair.

MAKES REPORT

 Palmer, manager of the Orange County Fruit Exchange, made his report today at the annual meeting of the exchange at Orange.

DEFENSE OF PHILOSOPHY AT SCHOOL MADE

Belief that the action of the Santa Ana board of education in placing certain safeguards on the brand of philosophy taught at the junior college does not reflect the attitude of the majority of voters, but rather the choice of a few individuals, is expressed in an article appearing in the last issue of "The Lion Truth," the organ of the local Lions' club.

Private Citizen Defends Course.
 Inquiries at the city board of education offices elicited the information that in addition to the protest filed by the local ministerial association, a Santa Ana party had filed a direct complaint with the state superintendent of public instruction, which complaint was accompanied by a questionnaire containing certain questions to which an objection was registered.

It was further ascertained that no initiative was taken by the local board in the premises, which only carried out the instructions as outlined by the state board of education.

Here is the article appearing in The Lion Truth:
 "Perhaps most of the members of the Lions club read of the action of the local board of education, who, upon the request of certain ministers of the city, called Professor Nealley on the Junior College before them and requested that in the future he restrict his questions in his Philosophy course so that no questions that might cause the students to think about religion be asked."

Condemns Socrates.
 "Socrates, one of the most famous Athenian philosophers, was condemned to death for the same thing four hundred years before Christ. The Athenian citizens did not want their youth to think for themselves, therefore they gave Socrates a cup of poison hemlock tea to drink."

"We are a little more civilized now. We simply tell the teacher to teach what we desire or look for another job. The point of the whole matter is this—should our teachers try to develop the thinking powers of the students or should they simply leaden their intellectual powers by asking only those kind of questions that call for no thought?"

"As members of a club whose motto is Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety," it seems to us that the promotion of clear thinking on the part of the students in our public schools is one of the things we should sponsor and promote in every way possible. If there was a question of sectarian religion involved this problem would not concern us, for that is outside of our field of activities. But this is not such a question. Professor Nealley is now limited from asking questions such as are asked in every class in Philosophy in every first class college. This is not liberty. This does not make for intelligence."

Commend Rev. Schrock.
 "We are proud to state that our Sky Pilot, Perry Schrock, was bitterly opposed to the action of the Board. No self-respecting man is going to continue to teach very long if he is hampered in his teaching. If the Board of Education wishes to drive out its best teachers it will do so by following out its present policy."

"The action of any group of people to hamper or stifle the thinking of the young men and women of today is likely to be futile. In spite of the criticism directed against them by their elders, the young folks of today are a keen-minded, clear thinking lot; they are much more sophisticated than the young people of ten or twenty years ago were. No attempt of anyone to prevent free and open discussion of any subject is likely to succeed with them."

MORE FRUIT SHIPPED THAN IN ANY OTHER YEAR, SHOWN

3377 Cars of Valencias, 1032 Cars Lemons, 118 Cars Navels Sent

HEATING EQUIPMENT URGED FOR GROWERS

Packing Cost Is Less, Says Exchange Manager In Annual Report

By HORACE FINE
 The Orange County Fruit Growers' Exchange returned to associations identified with it, the sum of $5,864,114.45 for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1924, it was disclosed by L. D. Palmer, manager, in committing his annual report to stockholders of the exchange at Orange today.

Based on 400 boxes to the carload, the 1,513,965 boxes of citrus fruit shipped represented 4547 carloads, exceeding in volume the output of any previous year in the history of the organization. The excess shipment was 230,759 boxes. The fruit was divided 2277 cars to Valencia oranges, 1032 to lemons, 118 to navels and 20 to St. Michaels and grapefruit. In addition to the above 136,515 boxes of Valencia oranges the 1924 crop shipped during 1924 will be accounted for the 1925 business of the exchange. Due to unfavorable marketing conditions, quite a quantity of both lemons and oranges were withheld from shipment at different periods of the year.

Urges Heating Equipment
 The manager says that comparison of statistics for this year's citrus crop taken before the recent winds and frost with estimates made since, indicate that frost and wind damage was around 35 percent. He says, however, it is a little early yet to make a definite estimate of the injury.

The report is featured by declarations that fruit growers should provide heating equipment and give greater attention to the replanting of windbreaks.

Extracts of important items in the report follow:
 The cost to the associations for the operation of this exchange was ninety-four hundredths of one cent per packed box less than the average of all district exchanges affiliated with the California Fruit Growers' exchange. This lower cost is due almost entirely to the volume handled, and shows the wisdom of larger units within the exchange, which can be operated at a less cost, and in our opinion, much more efficiently.

The cost per box for the operation of the California Fruit Growers' exchange, including all salaries, brokerage, telegraph and telephone service and all other activities of the exchange, exclusive of advertising, averaged five and forty-five hundredths cents per packed box, bringing the operating cost of both this exchange and the California Fruit Growers' exchange to six and thirty-nine hundredths cents per packed box.

Advertising Is Big Factor
 "Four and a half cents per box on oranges and grapefruit and seven cents per box on lemons was spent on national advertising, and dealer service work, which would bring the total average cost

YOST—Vaudeville (live acts) and "A Man Must Live," with Richard Dix.

"BROKEN LAWS" DUE AT WALKER'S TUESDAY.
Mrs. Wallace Reid is a "child of the stage." She was born in Boston while her father and mother were playing in the old Castle Square Stock Company there. She appeared in minor roles as a child, and when sixteen had seen extensive experience on the dramatic and vaudeville stages.
When only sixteen years of age she became a leading lady in motion pictures. Her director was Hal Reid, father of the late Wallace Reid. At eighteen Wallace and Dorothy were married. They continued to write, direct and play in pictures for Universal until the birth of their baby boy. Mrs. Reid appeared in "The Governor's Lady," "The Fighting Chances," "Every Woman's Problem," "The Masked Avenger" and similar successful photoplays. After the death of her husband she made "Human Wreckage," one of the most powerful dramatic films ever produced, and a body blow at the narcotic evil.
Her latest picture is "Broken Laws," a mighty epic of the screen dealing with Motherhood and the Law and comes to Walker's theater Tuesday for a run of four days.

INCOME TAX returns properly executed. Fee reasonable. THOS. B. HILL, 119 East Third, Phone 397-R.

Vera Reynolds has one of the leading roles in "The Golden Bed," picture now showing for one week at the West End theater.

"ON THE STROKE OF THREE" CLOSING TONIGHT.
The thousands of readers who thrilled to the pages of "The Man Must Live," the memorable Henry Payson Dowst story when it appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, are now enjoying the story on the screen. It is the current attraction at the Walker theater where it is being shown under the title of "On the Stroke of Three." Last showings of the production are slated for today. In the cast are Kenneth Harlan, Madge Bellamy, Mary Carr, Eddie Phillips, John Miljan, Robert Dudley and many others.

"A MAN MUST LIVE" NOW ON YOST SCREEN.

Richard Dix's set in "A Man Must Live," current attraction at the Yost theater, was easily the most popular of all the varied activities at Famous Players Long Island studio recently. Camera men, electricians, property men and other studio casuals not busily engaged on other sets found frequent excuses to wander over to the far corner of the main stage when Dix was making a scene under Paul Sloane's direction.

The reason for this strange attraction was not far to seek. The scene was a close-up of Dix and Edna Murphy seated on a divan, pulling a chicken wish bone. The action required a clever bit of pantomime as the two tugged away at the little forked bone, with their eyes tight shut, busily making wishes.

Meanwhile twelve young roast chickens were separated from their wishbones. Richard Dix is a healthy young man with a normal appetite, but he averaged only one bite of white meat to each chicken. The property men and the casual visitors, however, saw that none of it went to waste.

Jacqueline Logan shares feminine honors with Miss Murphy in support of Dix in "A Man Must Live." The picture is an adaptation of the story, "Jungle Law," and brings the star to the screen in the role of a newspaper reporter. Other big names in the supporting cast are George Nash, Charles Beyer, Jane Jennings, Lucile Henderson, Dorothy Walters, William Ricciardi and Arthur Housman.

MORE FRUIT SHIPPED THAN IN PAST YEARS

This exchange, the California Fruit Growers exchange, and the advertising campaign to 10.88 cents per packed box on oranges and grapefruit, and 13.29 cents per packed box on lemons.

These costs, even including the advertising, which exchange growers alone are doing to increase consumption of citrus fruits, we believe, are lower than any other marketing organization in California. There are very few, if any, growers in California, but what believe advertising essential and that the consumption of citrus fruits has been increased thereby, and it is a regrettable fact that there are some growers who are perfectly willing to let their neighbor do it, but are not at all backward about extending the dividends paid by such advertising, even though they could do their part and still have their fruit marketed at a less cost than they are doing at the present time.

"The comparatively few cars of navel and miscellaneous varieties shipped by this exchange averaged very low, as the sizes were small and these varieties from this district have to move at a time when Florida oranges are in heavy receipt, and weather conditions usually unfavorable.

"When we started our Valencia shipments we were faced with the largest crop of the smallest sizes that has ever been produced, and in addition to that, the fruit generally speaking, was of very poor exterior quality and unattractive in appearance, due to dry weather and severe winds the previous fall and winter, which scarred the fruit very badly. Really the only thing to recommend the fruit was the excellent eating quality. We do not believe better eating fruit has ever been grown and it was this fact that turned what promised to be a disastrous season at the beginning into one, that to the grower who distributed his crop throughout the shipping period, was very satisfactory, sizes and grades considered.

Juice Manufactured Aids
"While desirable sizes found a ready market at good prices from the beginning, due to the scarcity, there was for a considerable period during the early part of our Valencia season that extremely small sizes, and especially in the lower grades, were unprofitable, and large quantities of these had to be culled at this end of the line, and to the grower whose crop was made up largely of these sizes and who marketed all of his crop during this period, returns could not have been other than very low. From about August on to the end of the season the market steadily improved and we were able to ship practically all sizes and get for the grower a fair return. This was due entirely, we believe, to the juice business and the very fine eating quality of the fruit. Here again, the California Fruit Growers exchange must be given the credit for their wisdom and forethought in extensively advertising over a period of years, oranges for drink purposes, and in developing and manufacturing an electrical juice extractor of which over twenty thousand have been sold to date.

"Returning to the size situation that prevailed on Valencia the past year, our records show that 65 per cent of all fruit shipped through this exchange weighed 2 1/2 lbs and smaller, this is not taking into account a quantity of 324 or 360 size that was culled.

"We were very much interested during the past season at times when it was impossible to sell extremely small sizes for packing and transportation charges, to hear claims being made by some other shippers that they were making a fair return to their growers on those sizes.

"At the end of every marketing season a complete record of the market has been made and stands as an open book. There is then no question as to what times and in what amounts certain sizes and grades could or could not have been marketed profitably. The past year was no exception and I am going to make this statement without fear of successful contradiction: That there was a considerable period during the past Valencia season that the only possible way that extremely small sizes of any grade could be sold to return the grower anything would have been to sacrifice, by a reduction in price to such an extent the desirable sizes in a car, as to justify a jobber in taking a loss on the small sizes, which would mean that the grower with desirable sizes would be out of pocket to the grower whose sizes were small, in order that a showing might be made on that portion of the crop that was undesirable, and which, if sold on its merits, would have been unprofitable to ship. This, of course is unfair and inequitable; our idea being that a grower should be paid for exactly what he raises, based on market conditions; that is the reason that for years fruit has been pooled by grades and that is the reason that most of the packing houses in the state at the present time are pooling by size as well.

Lemon Crops Immense
"The lemon crop was larger than in any previous year. The California Fruit Growers exchange shipped 13,997 carloads of which this exchange shipped 1932 based on 400 boxes to the car. Our actual carload shipments exceeded this figure somewhat as most of the cars were loaded lighter than 400 boxes to the car. In addition to this a large quantity was sent to the by-products plant and sold loose at the packing houses.

"There has existed in this district, a feeling among growers generally, that we are favorably located climatically, and that it was not necessary to equip our orchards with smudge pots to ward off frost damage. We believe we are favorably located, and are satisfied that we never have as low temperatures of as long duration as some other districts, nor would it be necessary to use heating equipment as many times during the winter months as is necessary in some other sections, the fact remains, however, that we do get considerable frost damage, having had two severe frosts in the last three years, and some frost in three out of the last six years. On any of these occasions, it would have only meant efficient smudging one or two nights to have saved practically every orange and lemon in the district.

"The wind damage in this district, especially the last few years, has been much greater than the frost damage and during the very period of wind damage there has been a regular epidemic of removing wind-breaks, due partially to litigation or threatened litigation by adjoining property owners, but for the most part, based on the two years an additional greater loss has been suffered through the whipping off of a large amount of fruit. Since the winds last fall, there seems to be a concerted movement to re-plant wind-breaks.

If this is done, and in addition heating equipment installed and properly operated when necessary, we predict that in a few years growers in this section will again find themselves located in the greatest citrus producing section of the state. We know that we have the land that can and will produce the quality fruit in large quantities, it only being necessary to protect that fruit from unfavorable weather after it has been produced."

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds are the most common ailments of the winter season. They are the result of a cold that has not been properly treated. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co.

SKIDMORE TO MAKE LAGUNA $150,000 GIFT

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 9.—Making possible the rapid advancement of Laguna Beach, and to ward off any opposition that might arise to the voting of bonds for the bringing of an adequate supply of good water to Laguna Beach, Joe Skidmore will give to the community the entire distribution system which he controls and which is valued at more than $150,000. Displaying as patriotic a civic spirit as has ever been known in the history of American communities, this citizen of lofty ideals and big deeds has written his name indelibly in the history of Laguna Beach and the Southern California coast.

The gift is matchless for its selflessness. The manner of its announcement was characteristic of the man. There was no brass band, no specially prepared typewritten statement for the newspapers lauding the donor and giving his obituary in advance of his death. In the ordinary course of the chamber of commerce meeting Tuesday evening, H. G. Heister, the president, announced that after the Laguna Beach Water district had been formed and bonds voted for the bringing of water to Laguna Beach from the north, Joe Skidmore would turn over the distribution system of the Laguna Heights Water company without cost to the community.

Action Comes as Surprise.

The simple breaking of the most important bit of news that has developed at a chamber of commerce meeting in all of its history came as a bolt out of a clear sky. Stunned at first, the directors and members were soon on their feet congratulating Mr. Skidmore. A motion was carried for a rising vote of thanks and then Andrew B. Marshall, vice president of the chamber, said:

"Mr. Skidmore has been a very patriotic man. He has held the interest of Laguna Beach at heart. He has cooperated in a wonderful manner with the chamber of commerce. I personally know that it has cost Mr. Skidmore a great deal more than most people would imagine to give this co-operation to Laguna Beach."

Donor Makes No Talk.

For a brief space there was silence; then a heavy round of applause. The room buzzed with excitement and Mr. Skidmore was called upon for a speech. He smiled happily and abruptly laid off the necessity of a speech with a quick bit of repartee.

Following an almost unanimous vote of directors and members of the chamber of commerce present at the meeting Wednesday evening, it was agreed to proceed with the plans for the building.

Laguna Beach

Talbert

TALBERT, Feb. 9.—An event of interest to the Talbert community took place on Tuesday evening in Los Angeles when the Rev. Oscar Gibson, pastor of the local Methodist church, South, was united in marriage to Miss Nina Jackson of San Bernardino. The couple arrived in Talbert Wednesday.

Wednesday evening the regular prayer meeting night, a surprise was hastily planned for the newlyweds and took the form of a party, which was heartily joined in by the company of 60 friends present. Groceries and other articles were presented and were graciously received.

Mrs. Gibson, who is a nurse, is but a recent arrival in California, the family having moved to San Bernardino from Oklahoma last November. She and Mr. Gibson were friends in the East, their homes having been not far apart.

Election in Talbert drainage district No. 2 was held Wednesday. Those on the board were J. H. Pope, judge; A. F. Swift, inspector, and A. P. Vincent, clerk. Eighty-four votes were cast. John Pope receiving 46, S. E. Talbert, 37, and Rush, 1. The directors of the district are scheduled to meet Monday to canvass the votes. Directors are S. E. Talbert, Earl Gardner and George Bushard.

Mrs. Addie I. Blakey and daughter, Miss Leora Blakey, of Westminster, were overnight guests Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert and attended the reception given the Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Gibson.

A barn was moved by the Talbert house-moving crew Wednesday for Albert Mallet at Wintersburg. S. E. Talbert was a visitor at the home of his sister, Mrs. Irwin, at Orange county park, recently.

The first large acreage of beets to be planted in this vicinity this year is on the Keweenaw ranch which Sam Talbert has leased.

A number of pepper houses were moved from the George Mills place at Garden Grove to the Newland ranch, where between 30 and 40 of the pepper driers and storage houses are located.

Mrs. James Murphy and son, Ed Murphy, of Huntington Beach, were Wednesday visitors at the Talbert ranch.

Twelve hundred acres of barley belonging to Sam Talbert, and which was recently planted, is just showing up on the mesa lands.

Mr. Bickmore, field superintendent for the American Sugar company, was in the Talbert district Wednesday attending to business connected with the season's work.

S. E. Talbert has his road crew with grader and scrapers, at work on Garfield street, where the steep hill is being cut to grade and is also being prepared for graveling. A half mile of Garfield street has also been prepared for gravel by another crew of Talbert's men and the first gravel was put on Thursday.

Fred Pope checked off his ground for irrigation and started the water flowing on the large acreage Thursday. The ground is being prepared for beans.

The east end of the road, one mile north of Talbert, from Canby street to Ward street, has just been oiled.

S. E. Talbert trucked in a carload of barley hay from the Garden Grove depot. The hay, which is an Arizona product, is in bales of 80 pounds, the usual weight for the Arizona baled hay, but somewhat of a curiosity here.

Talbert has a new modern cold storage plant owned and managed by A. Martel, who is carrying on a wholesale business in butchering and selling beef, hogs and sheep. The plant is regarded as a notable acquisition to Talbert. The entire plant consists of the knocking pen, slaughter room and chilling room and the cost was approximately $8000.

A trap door in the knocking room rolls the beef when killed into the slaughter room where the animal is hung from hooks on a track from the ceiling, which eliminates all handling and makes the entire process of preparing the meat a one-man job. From the slaughter room where the skinning is done, the meat is moved into the chilling room to remain five or six hours and from there to the storage room, which is 20 by 20 feet in size and of capacity to store two carloads of meat, which may be kept in perfect condition for any length of time. The York machine, located in an adjoining room, and working automatically, does not allow the temperature to run above 38 degrees. The minute the thermometer reaches the maximum degree the motor starts quickly lowering it again. Seventeen hundred feet of coil are in the cooling system of the machine. The especially constructed building has a floor of a thickness of about four feet and is composed of a thickness of dirt on the foundation, two layers of cork, two of asbestos and two of cement.

Mr. Martel handles mostly his own stock, which he buys in car load lots and fattens in his own pens here, then wholesales. Some outside butchering is done, however, and also meat is stored for others.

An expert butcher is employed and since the opening of the plant has been doing each day, 15 being the largest number of head for one day. Sixty-five beefs, besides veal, hogs and sheep have been butchered since the opening of the plant. Mr. Martel also cures the hides, having a room especially for this process.

The present business has grown from a small butcher shop and meat route, which Mr. Martel opened here some years ago, and his co-operation in community interests is shown by his faith in the establishing of this modern plant in its present location.

Co. 1 (10 innings).
Tustin 7, Garden Grove 3.

Neal Raney, the Santa Ana speed-boy who has starred on the diamond at U.S.C. for two seasons and who has affixed his name to a St. Louis Browns contract, connected for a home run out at Irvine yesterday afternoon and broke up one of the most spectacular ball games that has been played here this season.

It was a thrilling climax to the last match of the Orange County Harbor league season and but for Raney's torrid drive with "Bus" Callan loitering on the paths ahead of him, the Beantpickers might have been defeated for the first time this year.

The teams fought along for nine innings and the score was to 1. "Barney" Le Bard, the Laguna Beach heavy, was holding the hard hitting Beantpickers helpless.

Callan got on to start Irvine's half of the tenth. He got to second while two were going out, putting Raney at the dish. Raney connected squarely and sped around the bags for a homer with Callan trotting in ahead of him.

This May Be Final Season For Former Star of Athletics

"STUFFY" McINNIS

The present season will probably mark the passing of the third member of the once famous Philadelphia $100,000 infield. McInnis is said to be making his last stand as a member of the Boston Braves.

Frank Baker and Jack Barry have been out of the majors for several years. Eddie Collins, alone, continues to go at top speed.

The national bicycle roller championships, according to present plans, will be held in conjunction with the eleventh national motorcycle, bicycle and auto show, which is to be conducted in New York City during the second week of February.

The big state event of the race meeting opening at the Fair Grounds track in New Orleans on New Year's Day will be the $25,000 New Orleans Handicap, which will be run on February 7.

LOCAL CASEYS BEAT FILMERS IN 10-3 GAME

Mike Kelly Stars On Hill, With Big Stick As S. A. Men Win Trip to Border

Santa Ana Knights of Columbus baseball team will travel to San Diego next Sunday to compete with the council team of the border city for the reward for the local's well earned, 10 to 3 victory here yesterday afternoon over Hollywood.

The San Diego jaunt was to go to the team that finished second in the first round of play in the Southern California Knights of Columbus league and by trimming Hollywood the local nine won this honor.

Glendale, undefeated league leaders, gets a trip to San Francisco to meet Oakland council.

Mike Kelly, Santa Ana pitcher, was the main factor in the local victory for he not only hurled superbly but made life miserable for the movie city team by driving out five hits as many canterers to the plate.

Harry Gaspar starred on the hill for Santa Ana out after fanning the first man to face him he was forced to retire when he pulled a muscle in his side. Kelly went to Gaspar's relief and pitched the full game.

Fifth round matches will be played this week in the Broadway academy's Winter league and what may prove to be the feature series of the week is on the books for tonight when Santa Ana council No. 1842, Knights of Columbus, and the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, two of the leading teams, collide.

The Register quintette is setting a terrific pace in this organization, having dropped only two points out of sixteen in the first month of bowling. The K. C. men are second, the Robertsons third and the Chandler Furniture Co. fourth. Complete standings follow:

Here's Answer To Register Puzzle; Bill Cole Winner

The Register's sport crossword puzzle contest is a puzzle no longer. The answer is published today. Have a free look and see where you fell down.

Ralph ("Bill") Cole, former Santa Ana and U. S. C. football star, turned in the correct solution and will be rewarded with a check for $5. The Register's crossword man couldn't fool Cole. Bill was the high school water-boy from the time he could toddle and he has known every athlete here for years. The puzzle was "gravey" for him.

Virtually correct solutions also were turned in by L. H. Osterman of El Toro, Miss Enid Twist of Santa Ana and Miss Alla Neely of Santa Ana. Their only error was 35 vertical in which they had Malcolm Tedford's nickname as "Snook" instead of "Snooks."

Many answers were received by the Register and several requested that the crossword puzzle be made a weekly feature. The sports editor must have his sleep so this won't be done. An interesting phase of the contest was that more than half of the answers were filed by women.

WAR VETS AND REGISTER TOP 10-PIN LOOPS

With Santa Ana Commercial Bowling league teams beginning their next to last week at the A. and B. alleys tonight, the championship of this strong organization apparently has simmered down to a fight between the Santa Ana Lucky Five and the American Legion, although two other squads, Mitchell's Decorators and the Brook Glass company, have an outside chance for the laurels.

The Lucky Five, having much the better of the remaining part of the schedule, have a decided edge on the A. and B. alleys tonight, and can decisively dispose of the powerful Mitchell team tomorrow night they will be right in the running.

The standings of this league follow:

Fans at Costa Mesa were treated to one of the best games of the year yesterday when the Shields Paint company team of Santa Ana battled Huntington Beach to a 3 to 3, 13-inning tie.

Huntington Beach came through in the first with three runs but did not do any more damage until the eleventh when it got three on with none out. Shields here came through with some brilliant pitching and whiffed three men in a row to turn the side back.

In the ninth Hayden's triple and Schrole's single tied the count for the Shields' team.

TUSTIN BEATS GARDEN GROVE IN LAST GAME

Grover Riehl's Team Holds Third Place In Circuit By Unexpected Victory

Grover Riehl's Tustin club clinched third place in the Orange County Harbor league and incidentally upset all the dope by beating the powerful Garden Grove team, 7 to 3, at Tustin yesterday afternoon.

Boisseranc, former Fullerton high school pitcher, was on the knoll for Tustin and he behaved like a veteran. He allowed eight hits, kept them all scattered and whiffed 11. Garden Grove looked dangerous in only one inning—the sixth—when it nicked Boisseranc for three earned runs.

Garr got the twirling assignment for the chippepper tribe and Tustin kept pecking away at him until it had a six run lead in the fifth. Charlie Blaeholder toiled the last two frames for Garden Grove and got past with only one run scored on him.

Beck Lanfranco, veteran Tustin infielder, was the hitting hero of the day as he clicked out four safeties. Mathewson of Tustin and Wolfing of Garden Grove also were strong with the willow. Schrott, Tustin shortstopper, featured with a homer.

The game was the last of the Harbor league season for both teams. The box score:

At the big all-league meet at Long Beach April 4, there will be no tobacco smoke floating around the athletic field.

"These A. A. U. officials we invite down from Los Angeles set a bad example for our athletes," Harry J. Moore, the Coast league president, said in urging the adoption of the non-smoking rule. "They are not associated with our schools and they have no hesitancy in smoking around the athletes. Our boys are open to enough temptations without that sort of thing around them when they are learning the value of cleaner living."

At the suggestion of Moore the league unanimously passed a resolution to appoint its officials for the meet from the high schools that compete in the annual classic.

Wonder what would happen if one of these should have the temerity to draw out a fog during the course of the afternoon?

PERPETUAL MOTION

INVENTION PROVETH
BARNUM WAS RIGHTNow it came to pass that a certain villager, a man of great mighty ideas, came to the city.An he did bring with him his perpetual motion plan, which he believed destined to propel the world.And did seek to find out some one who would back him with shekels.And lo, he findeth such a person and didst begin right away to spendeth the shekels. And even as water didst they flow.Now the money lender becometh worried and asketh the inventor to watcheth his step, saying that money didst not grow on trees.

Villager Wroth

And the villager becometh very wroth and answered and said unto the man of many shekels, Bothereh me not with tales of woe, for I am determined to maketh the world sit up and take notice.And the money lender went away and did send more shekels to watcheth his step, saying that money didst not grow on trees.Now a great light broke upon the lender and he stoppeth the cash to the villager.And the villager laugheth and

NEW HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT

The fact that a new high school district is to be organized in Orange county is an indication of two things. It indicates growth and it indicates the desire of the people of Orange county to develop their schools.

The proposed new district, petitioned for by the residents of Brea and Olinda, is one that has grown rapidly the past ten years. Ten years ago there was no Brea; a stubble field covered the ground now occupied by streets and beautiful homes and business concerns. The section is one with a wonderful natural setting, close against the foothills. With oil properties and orchards, it is pointed out by the petitioners, the district has ample assessment valuation to carry on a high school.

Twenty-five years ago Orange county had but one high school, and that was located in the upper story of a building that was torn down when the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. building was erected at the corner of Church and Sycamore streets.

Today there are eight high schools in the county—Santa Ana, San Juan Capistrano, Tustin, Huntington Beach, Garden Grove, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. Without going carefully into the figures, we are safe in saying that each of these eight high schools has more pupils than were enrolled in the one high school a quarter of a century ago.

Not only has the county grown tremendously in population but the attitude toward high school education has changed. In those days only a few graduates of the grammar grade schools went into high school; now only a few fail to go on to high school.

SUBSIDIZED EMIGRATION

The British government is going to pay Australia for taking British immigrants. It has agreed to pay about $5,000,000 for every 14,000. That means a subsidy to Australia for letting Englishmen in. It means a bonus of about $350 going with every immigrant.

The money is to be used by Australia for public improvements such as roads, railways, land clearing and housing, waterworks, etc., in the sections where the immigrants settle. It is hoped in this manner to develop unoccupied lands and give the new immigrants opportunities equal to those of native Australians.

If Uncle Sam had only thought of something like that, in the days when he was getting a million immigrants a year! Australia must be a good bargainer; or else England must be more burdened with surplus population than the world has realized. Ordinarily new countries look upon immigrants as highly desirable in themselves, as an economic asset, even though they come penniless. This has been so particularly in the British colonies, as regards British immigration.

So here is something new and thought-provoking in immigration policies. And the idea may yet be applied in the United States. It might be that a country like Italy, overpopulated and deliberately encouraging the exodus of its people to prosperous lands like America, would pay for their acceptance, because of the double benefit of fewer mouths to feed in the mother land and large sums of money sent back home by the emigrants.

NIGHTLY CELESTIAL EVENTS

Whatever else has been said about it, everyone seems agreed that the recent eclipse of the sun by the moon was the best advertised and most popular eclipse on record. But astronomers, while making every effort to see and learn as much as possible from this eclipse, were really far less excited about it than the public, ignorant of general astronomy. To the specialist this was only one of many tremendously interesting, important and beautiful sights to be seen in the skies right along. Says one amateur astronomer:

"There would be an infinite gain if even a degree of the public interest aroused by a natural freak which will not recur in these parts for more than two centuries were given to the pages of creation that are always spread wide open, day and night."

On February 2 the moon hid two stars from earthly view, one of them being Aldebaran, a star of first magnitude. On February 8-9 there is a partial eclipse of the moon. Every night there are celestial events which can be observed by the amateur with ordinary field glasses.

How many persons who watched the close approach of Mars to the earth last summer and the recent eclipse of the sun are watching any of these less unusual but equally interesting occurrences?

Speaking of radical progress made by labor boring from within, the Moffat Tunnel in Colorado is going right ahead, and in a couple of years will give a short, direct route west from Denver through the backbone of the continent.

THE MEXICAN BALANCE

Mexico is becoming a better customer of our country. She has been buying about eleven million dollars worth of American commodities a month.

Yet we are buying more from Mexico than we sell her. Each month, when the books are balanced, she is several million dollars to the good.

Can it be that Uncle Sam, supereconomist, is falling down?

Or do we sell the Mexican products that we buy to someone else and make profit enough to offset the difference with Mexico?

INTERPLANETARY TRAVEL

"We shall be seven days on our journey to heaven," says a member of a sect that has been expecting the end of the world. "Our first Sabbath will be celebrated on a strange planet, above a sea of silver. Of all the planets, only the earth has known sin. The worthy of this world enter heaven, and then for 1,000 years they travel from planet to planet."

In this time of keen interest in things astronomical, an ordinary mortal envies anyone who knows so much about heaven and heavenly bodies, and finds the prospect inviting. The earth is getting to be pretty well traveled. Many a tourist, temporal and eternal, sighs for other worlds to tour. Think of journeying on from planet to planet, and possibly from sun to sun and system to system, forever, beholding all the wonders of the universe! To paraphrase Hamlet, "To die—to travel"—is a consummation devoutly to be wished."

But—there's always a but in such matters. Granting that the believer quoted knows what he is talking about, most of us are brought to pause by this warning: "Earthly sinners must purge in fire for 100 years before they can be received in sinless planets." Somehow that makes little, sinful old Earth look more attractive than ever.

Orange Growing Area Limited

Redlands Facts.

Did you ever stop to think—That the business of growing citrus fruits is necessarily a very greatly circumscribed one, by the limitations of climate and water?

True, isn't it? We do think about the climate part of that statement, quite generally, for orange and lemon and grapefruit growing is necessarily associated with a semi-tropical climate. Even in this, the greatest and best producing area of the world, we have climatic extremes, freak spells of weather, which cut our production down in given years. It is a business calling for care and industry, but is probably, on the average, the most remunerative of all agricultural work, when so fully equipped with the necessary climate and other conditions which have the necessary climate are very limited in area.

Then when we consider another prime requisite, that of water, these areas are again cut down. Take it here in Southern California, the home of our citrus groves. Redlands has about the best water supply in all Southern California, and yet some of our water companies are finding it necessary, as our trees grow in size and ask for more frequent and larger drinks, to provide more than frequent and larger drinks, in the past. We have developed considerable water company and its holdings are probably the largest and most important in the instance of new development, while the Bear Valley Mutual Water company is even more conspicuous in its matter of added storage. But in Redlands, even, there is not much opportunity to expand in orange growing acreage—perhaps a little possibility of reaching further up into the hills with our plantings.

But one cannot think of any other section of the orange growing territory where there is sufficient water to allow of any considerable plantings. The cities are calling ever more and more loudly for all the water available for domestic purposes. Our population is growing so fast that the people must have the water for ordinary household uses. Subdivisions of orange growing acreage of all over the south are lessening the acreage of the trees and adding to the number of houses all the time. Pasadena and Lancaster Park and Monrovia and all the territory adjacent to Los Angeles have put out of commission many acres of orange groves in the last two or three years. Redlands is doing the same thing today. Everywhere one sees orange trees being made into firewood, to make way for homes. And the water that supported the orange grove is insufficient to take care of dwellings on every fifty foot lot. So the water demand even here is growing greater, while the supply does not increase.

All this leads up to the statement that the orange growing business ought to get better year by year. As production declines, and consumption increases, if the old law of supply and demand is worth anything, prices should get better. At the same time we have learned a great deal about culture of the citrus tree in the last few years and have been impressed with the fact that if one is to follow the business on a commercial scale, in some sections he must be prepared to combat cold with heat. Here is where our conclusion brings us: Orange growing in well selected territory, with trees also of right selection, will be increasingly profitable, as the area for it and the water supply decline.

Daily Weather Cards Pass

San Bernardino Sun.

After an existence of 44 years, the daily document that was once the most widely read among things printed, has passed. It is the daily forecast card of the weather bureau, long known in smaller communities and especially to those who visited the town postoffice and the village store.

Under the keen eye of the budget bureau at Washington has fallen the weather card. It has been decided that the daily newspapers and the radio give sufficient circulation to the weather bureau forecasts.

On June 18, 1881, when the mailing of the cards was inaugurated, it was a far different situation. In those days there were comparatively few daily newspapers and the radio was not dreamed of. Weather has always been the most popular subject of interest and millions read the government's forecast. The weather bureau cards in the early days were dispatched with the greatest possible speed. But gradually the government has been retreating in its expense in the distribution of the information. Several years ago the practice of weather bureaus telegraphing newspapers the official forecast was discontinued, and the press associations took up the duty. In Southern California the forecasts are no longer issued from Los Angeles, but are distributed from San Francisco only.

Now only a general forecast for Southern California is issued, whereas there was a time when the Los Angeles office would predict the conditions for the interior of Southern California. Perhaps we forget, but it seems the battling average has slumped through the change, and some newspapers are occasionally tempted to disclaim any responsibility for the correctness of the forecast. There have been days when it should have read: "The government alleges the weather will be fair and temperatures moderate."

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

LIFE EXPECTATION

Insurance companies tell us, that the average expectation of life is now twenty-five years longer than it was some hundreds of years ago. With the control of smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid fever, and other scourges, the average life is being lengthened.

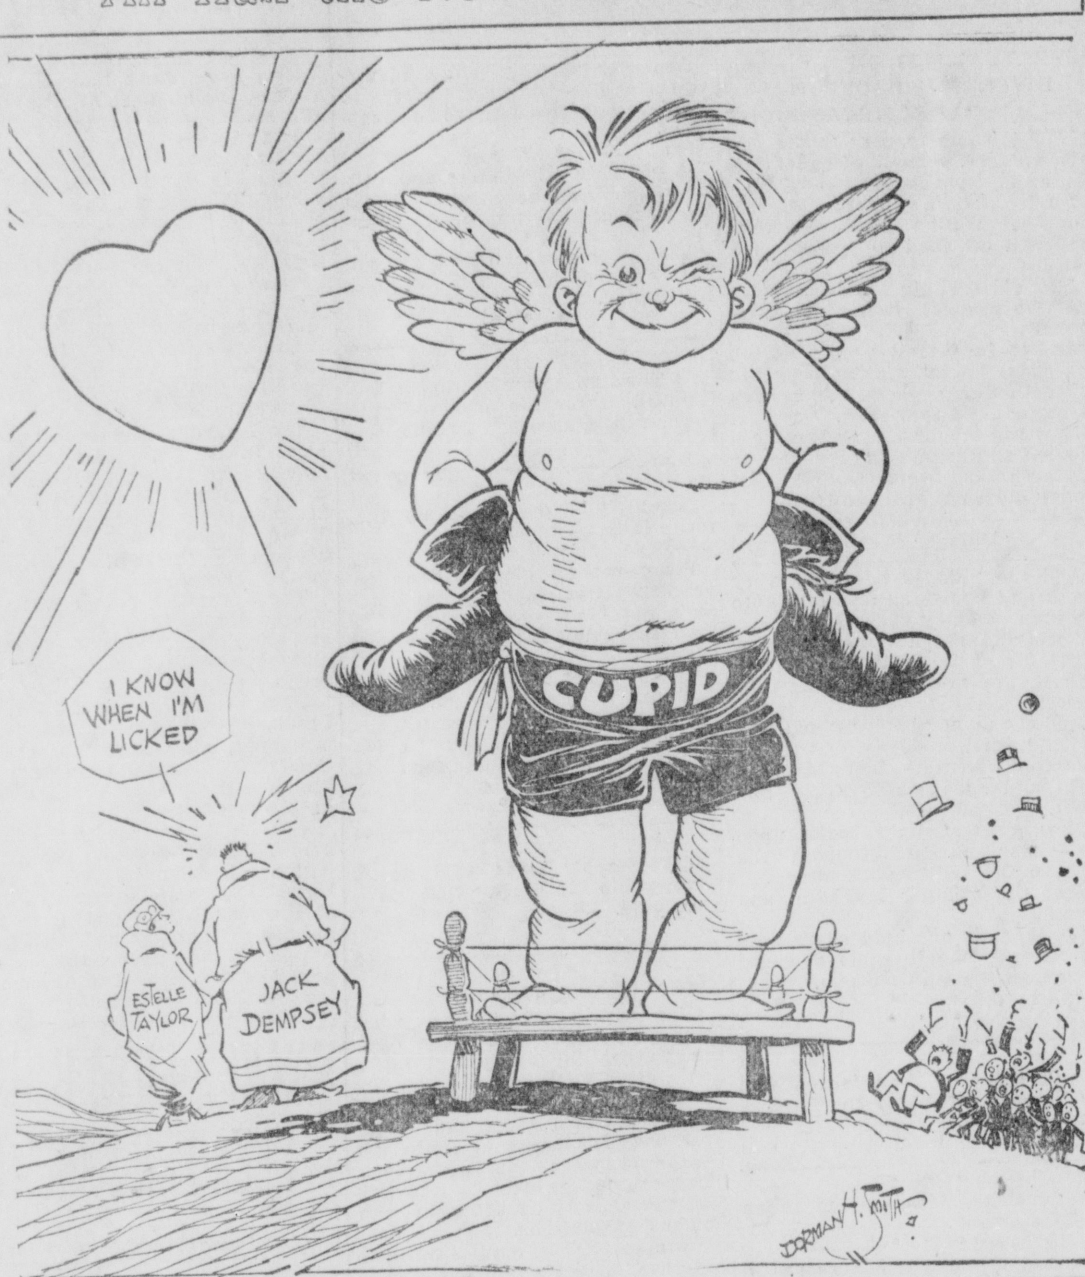

Wherever you go now you see the evidences of the work of the health departments. Streets are cleaner, back yards must be kept in a sanitary condition, garbage is removed two or three times a week, plumbing and drainage regularly inspected. When you think of this you are willing to give physicians and health departments the credit therefor.

But does the average man have any longer span of life, than the man of hundreds of years ago? This has not been proven as yet. How then is the average expectation of life now so much longer? The way the figuring is done, is to take a hundred, or a thousand people, born at a certain time, and then reckon the number that are still alive at a certain age. The figures show that more people of that hundred or thousand, now reach a definite age, say fifty years, than at any time in history.

Why? Because more babies are saved now. The tremendous increase in longevity is due to the fact that physicians now know, as they never knew before, how to treat sick babies. And the outstanding factor in that treatment is the food.

The only thing that can weaken the child is improper food, too much food, or insufficient nourishment from food. Then these physicians by simple, yet scientific methods, are able to maintain the child's life through these severe attacks of diarrhea or food poisoning. Thus proper feeding, by saving babies, is lengthening out the period of life expectation. I wonder if the same idea with adults, would lengthen it still further?

Withstands All Attacks

Port Huron Times-Herald

Every once in a little while there arises some self-appointed prophet in the land who tells us that the things which human experience have built upon natural and spiritual law have failed of their purpose and are going to be discarded for something which can be made to work.

Just now it is a Bolshevik preacher in New York, a Rev. Nelson Junius Springer, who from the wide experience of five years of rather loosely married life and no children, tells us that the "present institution of marriage has failed and probably will be scrapped for something better."

But this new "prophet" is telling us nothing new, although it may seem like new to his shallow mind. Men and women of this stamp and calibre have attacked the institution of marriage and the family all down through the ages for thousands upon thousands of years, and not only has it withstood all these attacks, but we are constantly throwing higher and stronger safeguards around it in the shape of public opinion and the power of the law.

It has been derided, and disregarded and trampled upon. It has failed in every age. But it has persisted as the very foundation of society, as its attackers have passed on and their attempts to originate something in place of this "failure" have been forgotten.

Worth While Verse

"THE WORD, THE WAY, THE LIFE" (Contributed)

How speak "THE WORD"?
When all of sound is of "THE WORD" a part.
How think "THE WORD"?
When from it mind itself may not depart.
How feel "THE WORD"?
When feeling only is but what thou art.
Then must it be I AM THE WORD in heart.

How seek "THE WAY"?
When it needs must be but purpose to our need.
How know "THE WAY"?
When it may only follow whither we may lead.
How keep "THE WAY"?
When we, the path, can only by the path be freed:
Then must it be "I AM THE WAY" indeed.

How is "THE LIFE"?
Can it be more than of its own decree?
How comes "THE LIFE"?
But from what is and must forever be.
How live "THE LIFE"?
Unless is life by life "THE LIFE" within set free.
Then must it be I AM THE LIFE to me.

It makes me feel more like a gambler's victim, the darn thing cost me 7 dollars and 40 c-nis, pop sed. Wich jest then the bell rang and it was Mr. Parkins and he put his cane in the corner and took off his overcoat and came in the parlor unbuttoning his other coat, and what did he have on but a fancy vest like pops, only insted of being blue with black squares it was yello with green squares, pop saying, Well well, Parkins, I see youve joined the gamblers fraternity.

My father, how can you say such a thing, I think Mr. Parkins vest is bewtifill, Gladis sed, and pop sed, Wat gave you the fleer I was referring to this vest? And he went upstairs laffing out loud to himself and Gladis went out with Mr. Parkins and I started to do my homework agensit my will.

Your Income Tax

A series of thirty articles, based on changes in tax legislation in the Revenue Act of 1924, have been prepared by the Bureau of Internal Revenue. These articles are appearing under the above heading, in the order they are issued.

No. 29

Various penalties are imposed by the revenue act of 1924 for failure to file a return and pay the tax on time, and for making a fraudulent return. Distinction is made between failure and "willful failure" to file a return. For failure to file the return on time, the penalty is 25 per cent of the amount of the tax, unless a return is later filed and it is satisfactorily shown to the commissioner of internal revenue that such failure was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect. If a taxpayer exercised ordinary business care and prudence, and nevertheless was unable to file a return within the prescribed time, the delay is due to a "reasonable cause."

For willful failure to make a return the penalty is not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, and in addition 25 per cent of the amount of the tax. For willfully making a false or fraudulent return, the penalty is not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both, and in addition 50 per cent of the amount of the tax, in case of a deficiency.

If there is a deficiency there is added to the tax interest on the amount of such deficiency at the rate of 6 per cent a year from the date prescribed for the payment of the tax to the date the deficiency is assessed. In addition, there is added 5 per cent of the amount of the deficiency if due to negligence, but, without intent to defraud. If due to fraud, the amount added in addition is 50 per cent of the deficiency.

No. 30

When by reason of illness or absence from home, additional time for filing an income-tax return is required, the taxpayer should address to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., a request for an extension. Collectors of internal revenue are not, as under preceding acts, permitted to grant such extensions. The request must be made before the return is due—March 15, 1925, if made on the calendar-year basis—and must contain a full recital of the causes for the delay.

An extension of time for payment of the tax or any installment thereof unless so specified in the extension. As a condition of granting the extension, the commissioner may require the submission of a tentative return and estimate of the amount of the tax, and the payment of at least one-fourth of the estimated amount.

A tentative return should be made on the usual return form, plainly marked "tentative" at the top, contain a statement of the estimated amount of tax believed to be due, and be properly executed. No other data need be given. Tentative returns will not be accepted unless permission is obtained previous to filing. A copy of the authority to file the tentative return must be attached thereto.

Where a taxpayer files a tentative return and fails to file a complete return within the period of the extension granted him, the complete return when filed is subject to the penalties prescribed for delinquency.

Except in the case of a taxpayer who is abroad, no extension will be granted for more than six months.

Beaten Back

Seattle Times

Press dispatches report that the Arctic vessel Maud is frozen in for the winter near Bear Island, off the coast of Siberia. The retreat of the expedition from the New Siberian Islands indicates that the plan to drift across the Pole has been definitely abandoned and the Maud is trying to get back to civilization.

When the Maud left Seattle more than two years ago, the drifting enterprise seemed entirely feasible. Fridtjof Nansen, in the Fram, made an historic drift with the Arctic pack in 1893-96 and came within striking distance of the Pole. With a little better fortune the prize would have been in his grasp, but the honor eventually went to Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary.

The Nansen expedition definitely established the existence of currents across the polar basin. Captain Amundsen believed that by freezing his ship in the ice at a different point it would be carried much nearer the Pole if not actually across it.

The failure of the latest attempt to chart the unknown polar sea is regrettable. The possibility of discovering new land in that unexplored region was fascinating. Experienced Arctic travelers believe that a large land mass exists. The action of the waves, the drift of the ice and other natural phenomena lead to this conclusion. Somewhere in the Beaufort Sea between Alaska and the North Pole, there may exist undiscovered land which is course of time could prove immensely valuable to the nation possessing it.

However, since the Maud has turned back, beaten by the ice barrier, the task of exploring the unknown regions will be given to others. There is a strong probability that the honor will go to the Shenandoah or its sister dirigible, the ZR-3.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 1—PEG LEG THE PEDDLER

Nancy and Nick, the Twins, sat up in their beds and rubbed their eyes.

The sun was shining through the curtains and outside a bird was singing.

The children listened and suddenly they noticed something. "Twee, twee, twee!" it was saying words.

It was saying: "Wake up, wake up and look under your pillows. Wake up, wake up and look under your pillows."

Nancy made a dive under her pillow and brought out a paper. "See what I found!" she cried.

"Dear Twins," said the letter—for that's what it was! "Poor Peg Leg, the fairy peddler, needs some help. Can you two children do something for him. All you have to do is to go where he goes and coax people to buy. He is trying to get enough money to buy a new peg leg—the old one is nearly worn out."

"Lovely yours, the Fairy Queen."

"P. S.—The magic green shoes are under your pillows. Put them on and meet Mister Peg Leg at the sign post by the Cross Roads."

"Sure, we'll go," cried Nick springing out of bed and rushing to the window.

But the little bird was gone. The Twins dressed and slipped on the green shoes. And then the next thing was to find the Cross Roads.

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Nancy. "The letter doesn't say which Cross Roads. I wish we were there."

Without taking a single step, they suddenly found themselves at the very place. Three roads met at this place and a big post had three signs on it.

One sign said "To the Land of Near By."

And another sign said "To Scrub Up Land."

And the other sign said "To the Land of Dear Knows Where."

Right under the signs stood a small person with a wooden leg and a pack on his back. He seemed to be looking for someone.

"Oh, here you are," he cried merrily when he saw the Twins. "I thought you'd be here first and I hurried so I've worn quite another inch off my wooden leg. I certainly must try to get a new one or I'll have to give up peddling altogether."

"Would you mind much if you did?" asked Nancy. "Why don't you ask the Fairy Queen for a pair of magic shoes like ours?"

"Humph!" cried Peg Leg in disdain. "Magic shoes, indeed! And miss all the fun! You've no idea what fun I have! And I get lots more to eat. Everywhere I go they say, 'Oh, it's Mister Peg Leg, isn't it. Well he must be tired. Bring him some cake and tea.' And do you think they would do that if I had two perfectly good legs and some magic shoes thrown in? No sires, Bob!"

"The Twins laughed. Mister Peg Leg was a merry little fellow and promised to be good company."

"When shall we start?" asked Nick.

"Right this minute. We'll go to Scrub Up Land first," said Peg Leg.
